The story of Liamique

In a family where art and heritage have been intertwined for generations, Liamique was born. Our story begins in a small yet vibrant home, where the skilled hands of a grandfather wove each fiber of felt with love and patience. He used to say:

"Every thread in this felt carries a secret from history and a piece of our soul."

As the years passed, the art of felt-making was passed down like a precious legacy from one generation to the next. However, in a world where speed and mass production have faded the essence of handcrafted art, Liamique emerged with the mission of preserving this ancient craft and sharing it with the world.

Liamique is more than just a brand; it is a bridge between the past and the future, between traditional craftsmanship and a modern vision. Every Liamique piece tells a story – a story of hands that worked with love, of nature that inspired, and of a culture deeply rooted in history.

The name Liamique is a promise – a promise to customers seeking quality, authenticity, and a truly unique experience. We believe every home deserves beauty, originality, and the warm touch of handmade art
